Saturday

Dear Booty;

I thought I would write a note and let you hear from the sick. It rained Friday afternoon but I went on, between clouds, to see Hazel. She looks awfully weak but seems in good spirits. She said she thought they would never get home Thursday but she was happy to be there. She has an appointment at twelve o'clock Monday with the doctor who will do the surgery if he decides to operate. She is going ahead with it if that is what he advises. That will be taking a chance but if they don't operate she thinks she will be paralyzed before very long anyway. We are hoping they can help her.

My grandson wrote me a card from camp and it was real sweet. He must be back home by this time.

It has been cloudy here all day and rained a little. I haven't been out anywhere today. I got groceries and everything I had to have Friday.

Frank talked to Minnie and George is no better. He is having trouble breathing and has to sit up at night and sleep.

I may run out there Monday after I see the doctor at ten o'clock. Hazel wants to ride up there Sunday if she is able.

I have done almost nothing today. Should have ironed a little but I still have one clean dress. Why iron another one till I need it.

It was nice talking and I must have told you all I know since I can't think of any news. I was about to forget,

Faithful asked Lottie about the wedding gift, tray. She did get it and loves it. She said she wasn't near through writing thank you notes. Maybe you will get one yet. That wasn't the idea but now you can forget about insurance. It seems to me she has had plenty of time to write a few notes.

Write when you can and I'll let you know about Hazel as soon as I find out something else.

Love to all
Mother
